 Class Matter.

copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

The importance of the tuberculosis movement is shown by the determination to erect a two-million dollar hospital in New York for the exclusive treatment of that disease.

An exchange announced the other day that the wedding of Seward Webb's daughter to the son of a New York newspaper man, which took place at Shelburne today, was to be "just like a royal wedding." We hope it wasn't.

Every attorney engaged in Franklin county court yesterday volunteered to defend the young man who shot and killed a man who was burglarizing a store at Sheldon Thursday night, provided the young man is called upon to stand trial. It is more than probable, however, that the shooter will not be called upon to answer to the charge.

The New York Sun teaches a little homily from a local text in the following: The suicide of the unfortunate Armitage Mathews is the natural and deplorable consequence of his associations. In his brief career he began by manifesting agreeable and ingratiating qualities coupled with good natural parts and gave every evidence of the ability and disposition to be a useful and respectable citizen. He fell presently into evil hands, the hands of one man, and his downward course was swift. At the door of this one man lies his untimely and shameful death, and by that very death this second may, for the present at least, escape the punishment he so richly deserves.

A VERMONT IN NEW YORK POLITICS.

There will be a closer interest in the New York elections from the fact that Tammany nominated a former Vermonter, Thomas C. O'Sullivan, for judge of the Court of Special Sessions, in the New York county convention of that political body on the same ticket with James W. Osborne, who is trying for district attorney against William Travers Jerome. Mr. O'Sullivan is a brother of the Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan, who for two terms has so ably represented St.
 Albans in the general assembly of Vermont, and of the Rev. W. J. O'Sullivan, pastor of St. Augustine's church in Montpelier. Although born in Michigan, Mr. O'Sullivan, from the age of five years to the time when he left for New York state, was a resident of Vermont, and here gained a start, and a start it was under adverse circumstances and against great odds. An accident in his early manhood was the turning point in his career. While working in a machine shop in Winoski the young man, hardly more than a boy, lost an arm. He then determined to gain an education. He supplemented a brief course in school with a great deal of reading and became a school teacher.
 After following that vocation for a time and doing newspaper work at the same time, he decided to fit himself for the law profession, beginning the study in the office of ex-Gov. Pingree at Hartford, this state. He continued the study with D. J. Foster, now Congressman from Burlington. He was in 1888 Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of Vermont, but was, of course, consigned to the same fate that awaits all aspiring Democrats in Vermont. He was first introduced to New York state politics by United States Senator Edward Murphy, who invited him to take up his residence in Troy, N. Y., in 1888.
 Then Richard Croker took the young man to New York city. After his admission to the New York bar Mr. O'Sullivan served two terms in the New York assembly. More recently he has devoted himself to the practice of his profession.

COOKING MADE EASY.

Many Improvements in Ranges That Interest All Housewives.

It is said that no housekeeper in New England thinks of buying a new range without first considering the famous Glenwood, with which is associated the well-known phrase, "Glenwood Ranges Make Cooking Easy."

Until these ranges were made, nobody ever dreamed that an asbestos lined oven could make such a difference in baking. The oven has two shelves, which may be adjusted at several different heights, just a little way from the oven bottom, or nearly to the top, giving the oven twice the room of other ranges. The broiler door swings downward, entirely out of the way of the hand that holds the broiler, removing that old danger of burning the knuckles on the edge of the door. The oven damper rod is in plain sight on top of the stove and directly over the damper, and is so short that it cannot warp or burn out. The ash pan is large and roomy, having a strong, well balanced handle for carrying, and is most carefully fitted to the hearth on all sides, which prevents the distressing nuisance of ashes falling around the sides and accumulating beneath, always experienced with a loose-fitting pan. The Glenwood oven heat regulator regulates the heat so plain and accurately that even the experience housewife soon learns its value and depends on it entirely.

—or more than a quarter of a century the Glenwood range has been a household word throughout New England, and today more Glenwoods are made and sold than any other make. It is acknowledged that the finish of Glenwood castings is unequalled. For some time past the interesting statement has been published by the makers of the Glenwood range that "every seven minutes in the day a new Glenwood is made and sold."
